City Launches New Website

January 27, 2006

Welcome to the new official website for the City of Greenwood, IN. If you were redirected here from our old home, please bookmark this page in your “favorites”. We not only have a new look and feel, but we have a new address – www.greenwood.in.gov. This change was made to adapt to the standards set forth for Indiana governmental entity websites. Hopefully this will enable those that are not familiar with our city to more easily find us on the web. As you look around our new pages, you should find several areas of new information. Calendars of meetings and events, more detailed City contact information, and Site Tools for searching content are among some of the enhancements that you will find. This remodel also provides easier methods for our City Departments to update and add new information, thus making their areas more informative and timely. As always, if you have questions or comments, please don’t hesitate to use one of the email links listed on the appropriate page. We hope that you enjoy the changes and return to this site often. Thank you for visiting www.greenwood.in.gov.
